By Associated Press.
Forbes Field, Pittsburgh, Oct. 6.—The New York Yankees made it two straight over the Pirates by winning the second world series game today 6 to 2. The Yanks were pitched to the victory by George Pipgras, a new comer to the classic, who held the Pirates to seven hits and was not in danger after his mates gave him three runs in the third inning.

They added three more in the eighth for good measure. Vic Aldridge, Pittsburgh's starting pitcher, was driven from the mound in the eighth. The official box score follows:

GEORGE REMUS SHOT WIFE ON EVE TRIAL OF DIVORCE CASE

By Associated Press.
Cincinnati, Oct. 6.—Imogene Remus died at Bethesda hospital today from a bullet wound in the abdomen suffered when she was shot by her husband, George Remus in a park here this morning.

Charges of first degree murder was placed against Remus by Chief of Detectives Kirgan. He will be held without bail.

By Associated Press.
Cincinnati, Oct. 6.—A few hours before they were to get to the divorce court to settle their marriage troubles, George Remus, once "King of Bootleggers," shot his wife, probably fatally, when she tried to escape as he pursued her through a Cincinnati park.

Mrs. Remus and her adopted daughter, Ruth, 19, had left their apartment early to go to the office of Mrs. Remus' attorney to prepare for divorce hearing before Judge Charles Hoffman today. They were riding in a taxicab.

As the taxi drove down the parkway, Mrs. Remus noticed her husband sitting in his automobile with a driver at the wheel, the daughter said.

Remus followed his wife's taxi. As the cars moved into Eden Park where the traffic was slow, Mrs. Remus became frightened and jumped from the taxi.

Remus leaped from his car, caught her and pressing a revolver against her, fired one shot into her abdomen. Her screams attracted people in the park and she was taken to a hospital where physicians said her condition was critical.

Remus entered his own car and was driven by his chauffeur to the

Mrs. Remus filed suit in October, 1925, just before Remus was released from the Atlanta, Ga., penitentiary, where he had been sent for violation of the national prohibition law there. She charged gross neglect and cruelty, declaring that Remus struck her when she visited him in the prison.

Remus filed an answer and cross petition, in which he alleged that she had transferred her affections to a former operative of the Department of Justice who was instrumental in obtaining his conviction.

He charged also that she and this man had sought to keep him in prison, and that his wife had taken possession of his money.

KNOW TEXAS

The first cotton mill in Texas
was a small spinning and weaving plant erected by John F. Torrey at New Braunfels on the Comal river about 1850. It was destroyed by flood some years later and never rebuilt.

The oldest cotton mill in the state at present is the Dallas Cotton Mills, established in 1883. The Corsicana Cotton Mills is among the pioneer mills of the state.

The petroleum refining industry ranks first in Texas on the basis of the value of products. In 1926 the total value of its products was $344,586,806. Corsicana pioneered in the refining industry and one of the largest refineries in the state is now located here.

In 1920, according to the United States census, Texas had 946,629
dwellings and 1,017,413 families.

Texas has the third longest coast line among the states of the United States.

The Panhandle and the South Plains area constitute one of the unique regions of the world, because it is one of the few places where advantages of high altitude are combined with fertile soil, abundant water, and mild winter
temperatures.

Quick silver production is growing in Brewster county. One mine has produced 4,500 flasks. The total production since the mines started has been about 98,500
flasks.

The average milk production per cow in the United States increased 660 pounds from 1919 to 1925. Texas has 349,240 dairy cows producing nearly 500,000,000 in dairy products. Texas has 5,845,918 beef cattle valued at $122,630,336.

OLD MEN

On Wednesday of last week
Georges Clemenceau, "Tiger" of France, celebrated his eighty-sixth birthday. On Sunday Paul von Hindenburg, President of Germany, observed his eightieth. Both men have long passed the traditional age of three-score years and ten, yet to neither is his strength "labor and sorrow," as the Psalmist would sing.

Clemenceau, the war premier, has retired. It is true, to his little white house by the sea. But from that retreat his words and his ideas still flash forth with all the fire of youth.
Von Hindenburg, the former field marshal who drove the Prussians out of East Prussia then took command at the western front, withdrew for a while from the public eye. Then he emerged again to assume the arduous duties of heading a young republic. Most men who attain eighty years or more are old in mind and in body. But these two appear to be only in years.

THE WORM TURNS

The "over worked" business man launched the movement against special "weeks" and "days." The general public sustained his objections. Now the teaching profession has declared war to the finish on this greedy parasite on time.

When the American Educational Digest sent questionnaires on this question to school superintendents and principals 800 of them registered complaints against this scheme of dividing the school term into special observance weeks and days. The replies of these administrators indicated that the point has been reached when there is a special time for everything in the school year except for the curriculum.

Ninety-one special "weeks" are observed in the public schools of the country each year. That means if one school could set apart each week of the term for the observance of one of the special "weeks" it could not complete the list in two years. It is obvious that not all of the schools are observing all the "weeks" they are called upon to observe.

The educators characterize the
"weeks" and "days" as "time stealers," "menaces to education,"
"something for hobby riders to do"
and "special interest exploitation of the schools."

It will be conceded by all educators as well as the public that school children may obtain some benefit from two or three of the special observances and that the others benefit only their authors.

The school term is so many months long. Within that prescribed period so much work must be done. The curriculum should be so broad in its scope that it touches upon every branch of knowledge necessary to education and culture.
If the curriculum is complete then there is no need for special "weeks" and "days." If there is need for this "week" and "day"
then the curriculum is weak in just those places.

THESE CHANGING TIMES

Many tears are being shed and many lamentations are heard for the passing of ancient landmarks, cherished traditions and national institutions. The tears and lamentations increase as the "departures" increase, and in this progressive era the "departures" are many.

Kansas misses her horse rails and posts. Several states have bidden fond farewells to canals and canal boats, which have been abandoned because of the inability of the waterways to compete with the railroads. Mountainous states regret the forcing of the old watering trough off the roads by the automobile and improved highways. And virtually everywhere the barber pole is passing into oblivion.

Traffic conditions, city planning commissions and different business conditions are combining to persuade more and more barbers to "take in" the sign of their trade.
In some towns and cities none survive the onslaught of progress and modernity.

Barbering flourished as a business in Biblical times. Ezekiel mentions this craftsman in the Old Testament. A barber was one of the central figures in an Italian novel written by Alessandro Mansoni in the first half of the nineteenth century. The plot of which was suggested by an historical incident which occurred in 1630 and which involved a Milan barber.

The barber pole with its stick-candy effect once advertised the fact that the barber within not only shaved beards and trimmed hair but "let blood" for the ill and extracted teeth on occasion. The ball which has long surmounted the barber pole superseded several decades back a copper basin with a gap on one side which represented a similar instrument that was placed around the customer's neck to protect his clothing from the lather and clipped hair.

A JOB FOR THE STATES

Investment bankers of the country, meeting at Seattle, are on firm ground in opposing federal legislation of the "blue-sky" order to regulate the sale of securities. Their opposition cannot be attributed to commercial motives, since they have been among the most active advocates of state laws for the protection of investors, and obviously these legitimate dealers have much to gain by the removal of fraudulent securities from the market.

They point out that the federal trade commission already possesses considerable jurisdiction over the peddlers of fake stocks and bonds or persons who make false representations for the purpose of selling securities. Eight orders were issued last month against promoters engaged in this sort of interstate commerce. The great need, in the opinion of the investment bankers, is for a uniform law to be adopted by the states.

Now is the time to prepare our 1928 city building program. Some things are needed worse than others. We should center on these things most needed—get together —and secure them. A little co-operation and a will to work can accomplish much.

The continued growth of any city rests upon the ability of the citizenship to keep pace with the rapidly changing times. There is no middle ground. A city must progress otherwise it starts slipping downhill on a well greased road.

Just about the time we thought we had the lawn mower securely laid by for the winter the rains came followed by the warm sunshine—
and the grass grew—and the lawn mower was re-oiled and again pressed into service.

NEW YORK TAKES OPENING GAME OF SERIES WEDNESDAY

By Associated Press.

Forbes Field, Pittsburgh, Oct. 5.—The New York Yankees defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 5 to 4 today in the opening game of the world's series. A local record-breaking crowd, close to 15,000, looked on as the National League champions were sent to defeat, largely through a bad break when the Yanks scored three runs in one inning, and two bases on balls.

Neither the starting pitchers, Ray Kremer for the Pirates and Waite Hoyt for the Yanks was able to finish. The two right handed aces saw John Miljus and Wilky Moore pitching at the finish.

Kremer was forced from the box in the sixth when Lazzeri started a threat with a double, Miljus going in to hold the Yankees to one hit and no runs for the remainder of the game.

Two stinging singles with one out in the eighth sent Hoyt away. Moore allowed Harris to single and score one run but he was unhit-able after that.

HEAVY RAINS DID NOT HELP COTTON IN LIMESTONE COUNTY

Special to the Sun.

Mexico, Texas, Oct. 4. With between 40,000 and 45,000 bales ginned in Limestone county and between 15,000 and 20,000 ginned in Freestone county the cotton crop of the "Beltone empire" is 80 per cent or more gathered. The heavy rains of Saturday following showed the previous Tuesday did not help the cotton in the field, but there was not much of it in this district.

Groesbeck has led everything in this section in cotton receipts for several weeks overtaking Thornton, a short distance away. Cotton receipts at principal markets are: Groesbeck 5,400; Thornton 5,150; Goldsboro 4,200; Mexia 3,150; Wadham 3,000; Teague 3,416; Fairfield 1,084; Kosse, 3,285; and Talmage 1,126.

At Kosse reports are that 1500 bales of cotton are in the yards unsold. Thornton estimates that cotton receipts will run beyond the 6,000 mark with 5,150 already passing. Receipts at Teague were 200 during the past week due to rain. Fairfield has been busy with the bales during the past week and last end of the cotton crop. Bryan most of it was held unsold. Seed planted has announced he will build there was bringing $32 and $33 per a new modern gin at that place. County seat of Freestone county.

Reports from Calvert are that rainfall for the past week in the 2,500 bales had been received but district has averaged about 3 to 4 inches, practically no cotton brought in and one-half inches.

HOME ROBBED BY POLITE BURGLAR TUESDAY EVENING

A "gentleman burglar" operated in Corsicana Tuesday night and secured between $35 and $40 cash from the residence of Norris W. Lovett, 1505 West Sycamore, about 9:30 o'clock. Mrs. Lovett was alone at the time and had retired, being awakened by the prowler who was reported unusually courteous and polite, warning her not to make an outcry but assuring her, only wanting money. She slipped her valuable rings off her fingers into the bed. The money was in a small purse in the side of a large purse and she thinks that the prowler had already searched the purse when he awakened her. She told him where the money was.

Only a few minutes later, Mr. Norris returned home and a search revealed an expensive silk scarf, a pair of hose and a napkin left by the burglar. The telephone line was cut as Mr. Prowler left, so that the alarm could not be given. A burnt match was beside of the telephone where he searched for the wire which he is thought to have cut with a knife.

No flashlight was used by the burglar. Mrs. Lovett stated that she did not see the man as it was dark; but he was small of stature and spoke with a "Yankee brogue." City and county officers were notified concerning the burglary but no arrests have been reported.

It is thought that the intruder gained entrance to the house through the front door which was not locked, but a light was on in the front of the house, and it is probable that he secreted himself in the house and waited for his chance.

The intruder did not attempt to harm Mrs. Lovett and was very polite, assuring her that money was all he desired.

A search was instituted over the entire town for the burglar but no one answering his description was seen.

Mr. Lovett had been to Frost on a business trip.

It is thought that the several articles left in the house probably came from some other job carried out by the intruder earlier in the night.

The burglar threatened to "shoot" if Mrs. Lovett gave the alarm.

Two other homes in the same neighborhood were entered early Tuesday night while the occupants were away from home. The home of Farley McCarver at 1510 First avenue, and the garage apartment of Lawrence McCarver, immediately in the rear of the Farley McCarver home, were burglarized and a number of small articles taken, some of which were later found where the intruder had discarded or dropped them in the street. Little of value was missed from these two homes, the cash taken from the Lovett home being the biggest haul of the evening.

The police department has the matter under investigation and state that it is hoped to clear the burglaries up at an early date, as has been the case in the greater number of such cases in the past.

Former Ft. Worth Police Chief Dead

By Associated Press.
Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 6.—Harry Hamilton, 36, former chief of police of Fort Worth and one of the best known peace officers in Texas, died today following a stroke of paralysis ten days ago.

Obituary.

On March 13, 1926, God gave to Mr. and Mrs. Christian Hoffman the most precious gift that any home ever received—a sweet little baby girl. She was named Barbara Sue. Oh, that home was so happy, contented and satisfied with this little angel until God saw better for her and sent His pure snow-white angel and gathered the little one under her soft loving wings Tuesday morning, Sept. 27, 1927, and carried their little one to live with our blessed Jesus.

All was done for her that could be done by loving hands and good doctors, but all was in vain. God only planted this little flower on earth to blossom in Heaven as a shining jewel to lighten your pathway. Weep or grieve not, dear parents. We know that awful pain that is in your heart and wish there was something I could say or do that might lighten your hearts, but God alone can do that.

Little Barbara Sue was such a sweet little baby, always playful, with a smile which mother and daddy will miss. She was only sick a few short days with diphtheria. Her suffering is over and she is not dead, but asleep. You can only live a pure, Christian life that you will see her again, for God is too just, kind and true to make a mistake. He knows why your most treasured jewel was taken so soon. God's will, not ours, be done. God says in Matt. 19:14, "Suffer little children and forbid them not to come unto me, for of such is the kingdom of Heaven; there shall be no other idols before me. Matt 5:4, "Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted."

I know all your plans for your little one are blotted out, but may her going help you to see and understand the way of God and may He give you strength and grace to bear it all as my prayer. Our hearts are full of love and overflowing with sympathy for you. We know what it is to give your sweet ones up.

You kept your treasure a short while.

She was your joy and pride.

You loved her, perhaps too well. For soon she slept and died.

Dear little babe, you'll miss her so.

Through all the day, wherever you go.

All through the night how lonely it seems.

No little hands to wake you from your dreams.

Your precious baby from you has gone.

Her sweet voice you loved so well is still.

That place is vacant in your home which never can be filled.

Love and sympathy, your cousin, ARTEELIA

Obtain Your Size Now

The ever widening circle of satisfied Dayton users and the constant and rapidly growing demand all over Texas for Dayton RED STRIPE Tires has presented us with the problem of HOW TO KEEP IN SIZES.

Every department of the Factory is being worked to absolute capacity. Some weeks ago we contracted for one carload of Dayton Tires PER DAY through September and October. We now find this quantity will be far short of our requirements. We believe that an early Fall in the North will so curtail the northern demand that we will be able to supply all our customers their needs in Dayton RED STRIPE Balloons or Thoroughbred Cords.

We are, however, seriously threatened with a stock shortage and as we are truly anxious to disappoint no one, we urge that you anticipate your tire needs early.

There are other reasons that make early purchase of tires advantageous. At our earnest solicitation the Dayton Rubber Manufacturing Co. covered their fabric requirement through October at a time when cotton was about 14c a pound. The selected staple as used in all Dayton Thoroughbreds has advanced considerably more in proportion than has the ordinary staple, consequently the Cord Fabric going into our tires today was purchased at about 15c a pound less than we could duplicate that purchase today. Nevertheless, the prices now quoted are the lowest that we have ever offered.

We cordially invite you to call today at our nearest Store or Associated Store to further investigate the Quality of our merchandise, the Worth-while service we are able to render you, and the very attractive prices we are asking.

TURKEYS — TURKEYS

It won't be long now until turkey time of the year will be here. Thanksgiving is a little early this year and I would advise people owning turkeys to begin feeding the ones intended for Thanksgiving, so they will be in good shape. We think it best that you figure on selling about forty percent of your turkeys for Thanksgiving and sixty per cent for Christmas, as this is about the proportion the markets need them. We do not look for Christmas turkeys to be as high as last year; as the price was too high and consumers refused to pay the price and a good many had to go to freezers Christmas and lost owners big money, and it is reasonable to think that they would not come back this year and pay as much as last year. So get at least a portion of your turkeys ready for Thanksgiving, would be our advice.

METHODIST MEN'S BANQUET ADDRESSED BY FRITZ LANHAM

"The aristocracy of service should be the goal of every man if he would be truly great," was the message of Congressman Fritz Lanham of Fort Worth to the Methodist Men's Luncheon Club at the first fall meeting held in the Educational Building of the First Methodist church Tuesday evening. More than 125 men attended the meeting.

Musical Program Given.

A musical program was presented before the address, arranged by C. T. Banister, chairman of the program committee. "Swanee River" and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" were sung by the Methodist Men's Quartet, composed of Dr. J. Wilson David, Hampton Keithley, E. L. McKeown and H. E. Metcalf. These were followed by two violin numbers, by Mrs. Adele Sutton Pharr, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Sutton Hyndman.

"Just A Wearying for You" and "I Know A Lovely Garden" were sung by Miss Mandelle Smith, winner of the recent Atwater-Kent audition, and also of the Hearn scholarship. She was accompanied by Edward F. Hearn. Roy Leeds, winner among the men in the recent audition, closed the program with "When You and I Were Young, Maggie" accompanied by Mrs. Eugenia Story.

E. D. McCarver was then presented by Banister. After regaling the audience with a humorous line for some minutes, he presented Judge Rufus Hardy. Judge Hardy, who represented this district in the United States Congress for sixteen years, pointed out that not only was Texas the greatest State because of its size, but also because of the capabilities of the men who were sent to represent her in the National Congress. He stated that he had been told that the ablest man in Congress in the few years immediately after Texas was admitted to the Union, was Senator Rusk, one of the first Senators from Texas. He pointed out various other leaders, and then declared that one of the most capable leaders in Congress at the present time was Congressman Lanham of Fort Worth, representing the Fifth District of Texas, the speaker of the evening. Opening his remarks with a glowing tribute to Judge Hardy, whom he characterized as one of the greatest men ever sent to Congress from Texas, the speaker briefly expressed his appreciation of the privilege of attending the meeting of the club.

Man Seeks Supremacy.
He continued in part: "From the beginning of time, men have sought to be supreme. Alexander conquered almost all of the known world of his time, and then went for more. Caesar, the man who would rather be a great man in a village than a small man in Rome, also went because he had not accomplished late in life what Alexander had accomplished before he was thirty."

"Man's efforts at supremacy resulted in the establishment of various aristocracies as he devoted his attempts at leadership in many directions. The majority of man's early aristocracies have passed away except for the faded remnants which we have today. A man who seemed a giant in one age, was a pigmy in others which followed."

"The first aristocracy established by man was that of brawn. All leadership depended on gigantic physical strength and the possession of the greatest brute nature. There was no need for a big man to be covetous of his neighbor, for if the neighbor had anything, he desired he took it. The Scythians who came out of the Northern Steppes were examples of this type, and they conquered much of the civilized world. But they passed away. We have decided that it is better to put our shoulders to the wheel of progress and devote our strength to worthwhile tasks rather than the task of placing our opponent's shoulders on the mat."

Aristocracy of Brain.
"The aristocracy of brain soon replaced the era of strength with an age characterized by the use of shrewd practices and sharp wits, typified by the Sophists. The chief aim in life was results, and the means for attaining them mattered little. There is still a vestige of this decadent form of supremacy in existence today, but our constant war against graft and sharp practices has done much to dissipate even the remnants, and those who make their way by such practices are by no means numbered among our leaders."

"A third aristocracy was that of blood. There was a time when a certain amount of indigo circulating in a man's body was necessary before he could circulate in the best society. But we believe that all men are alike, whether they be from hut or palace. If the blood is pure, character is not determined by the amount of indigo present. Robert E. Lee was a great man, not because he was a descendant of Norman ancestry as some claim, but because of the Christian principle for which he stood and which he applied to his life daily."

"Three generations of retrospection will bring almost any family back to a common toiler. The greatest men of our history have been men of humble birth. Plantus was a miller's son; Thomas Marlowe was the son of a shoemaker. If blood counts for so much, why have so many of our presidents come from between the handles of a plow?"

"History refutes every argument which has been placed forward to support the blood aristocracy. We still have a vestige of the age left in the heiresses who will trade parts of their great fortunes for poverty-stricken titles from the continent, and in such men as Wilhelm Hohenzollern, who attempted to prove his ancestry directly back to God."

"There is only one blood, that can establish an aristocracy, and that is the blood that flowed from Calvary that was able to change a Saul to Paul the Apostle; a be-deviled woman to a Mary Magdalene, and a thief on the cross to a citizen of Paradise."

Aristocracy of Money.

"The aristocracy of loot or money is another era which has passed. It is worse than the others because it removes the leadership from the man himself to his money exchequer. The acquisition of money alone cannot bring men fame and honor, for there are princes and scoundrels alike among the rich and poor."

"There is only one real aristocracy and that was established by Christ. It is the aristocracy of service. During Christ's ministry a mother with two fine sons, asked the Master to put her sons in the places of honor on the right and on the left, and asked the Master how they might assure themselves of the place. The Master's answer contains the formula which will always be the measure of a great leader. Whosoever will be chief among you, let him become the servant of men."

"Service helps a man as he himself is engaged in helping his fellowmen. If we say that there has been no progress, let us look back and see how far we have come since the beginning of time. If we were asked what woman was the greatest, we would not search history for some celebrity, but we would select some one near us, our mother, sister or wife; and they would be selected because of the deeds of kindness which they had done."

Two Theories of Life.

"There are two theories of life, one is that of giving, the other receiving. Most of the notorious men of history have had many admirable traits, but through all of them has run that taint of selfishness that has caused their ruin. Benedict Arnold was a great soldier, but his desire for personal aggrandizement caused his fall;

Aaron Burr was a great leader, but his desire for supreme power and the establishment of a kingdom of his own in the great Southwest caused his death and loss of civilization. Service, only makes for happiness and contentment."

"There are thousands of monuments erected in this country to commemorate our great heroes, but there is not one that is to be found that was erected to a selfish soul. When we see a memorial we do not ask 'How much they have made' but we ask what they did."

"We judge the great characters of history, not by wealth which they have acquired, but the list of their accomplishments and the worth of their service. For this reason Joan of Arc is one of the greatest characters of profane history. As Mark Twain expressed it, she was the antithesis of the age in which she lived, which was marked by greed, and selfishness."

"We cannot judge greatness by occupation, brawn, sharpness of brain, or the aristocracy of wealth, but only through service, and we should begin that at home. Good purposes are not enough. Christianity is a big thing in the abstract but when applied it is the acme of greatness. Christianity is not an abstraction, but it is a practical way of living."

"Service must be active and it begins at home. Little, everyday deeds of kindness are better than notions hung on the walls and thoughts of reverence. Home is the place where man finds the things he searches for elsewhere in vain. If there is no happiness at home there is none anywhere. Service, if started in the home, will penetrate through our business and on throughout the world."

CORSICANA WILL RECEIVE VALUABLE
MAGAZINE PUBLICITY

Corsicana will in a very short time get some substantial advertising in two national publications of wide distribution, the campaign to be placed and financed by the Texas Daily Press League of which the Daily Sun and Semi-Weekly Morning Light are members. This organization of the most progressive daily papers in Texas have contracted to carry a full page advertisement for six months in "Standard Rate and Data" of Chicago, and also for one full page in "Editor and Publisher" of New York City.

Both of these publications are the best in their class, their distribution being to every newspaper every manufacturer of any consequence and every advertising agency of the nation, thereby getting the attention of several hundred thousand readers. The copy for this advertising campaign will be prepared by a special advertising agent, which will be illustrated and featuring the strong points in each of the cities where member publications are located.

This being the case, Corsicana will be prominently mentioned in the advertising copy, as well as will be prominently displayed on the illustrated matter which will include the map of Texas on which Corsicana will be shown as being the distribution center of this section of Central Texas. The cost of this campaign will be several thousands of dollars which will be prorated among the members of the organization. The Texas Daily Press League is well organized and in excellent financial condition, with efficient and experienced newspaper and advertising men as representatives.

This organization has offices in Dallas, Kansas City, Chicago and New York City with efficient men who are always on the alert for the interests of the members. At the annual meeting held in Dallas Monday, it was voted to also open permanent offices in San Francisco so the members will be kept in constant touch with the activities of the advertising and business fields of the Pacific Coast.

GIVES SOURCE OF FIGURES
ON ITS COTTON CARRY-OVER

By Associated Press.
Washington, Oct. 4. The Department of Agriculture has sent to H. G. Hester, Secretary of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, a letter detailing the sources from which its statistics on the world's July 31 cotton carry-over were compiled.

Secretary Hester protested that the figures were more than half a million bales higher than his own estimate and that some of the authorities whose statistics were used had interests not favorable to Southern cotton.

The Department of Agriculture explained that the statistics were made up from material which, before they used them, already had been published several weeks, according to a message received. The sources of information were the same as had been used for several years in securing an estimate of the world stocks of cotton at the end of the cotton year. These sources and statistics in previous years, the department says, had been found dependable.

The Little River pool whose flush production has been a handicap to the efforts to control the Seminole field's output, was included in the renewed agreement.

Restrictions on the drilling of wells, which were included in the original agreement, were omitted from the new pact.

Ray M. Collins, umpire of the Seminole area, will submit the new plan to the corporation commission for its approval.

ROBERT COOKSEY NAMED FOREMAN SCOUT ROUND-UP

TO HAVE CHARGE OF SELECTION OF SIX CREWS OF COW-BOYS

The selection of Robert Cooksey as Foreman in charge of recruiting cowboys for the local membership round-up of the Circle Ten Boy Scout Council was announced by Charles G. Jester, chairman of the membership committee, Thursday morning.

Mr. Cooksey will have charge of the selection of six crews of cowboys each under the supervision of a top hand who will round up local citizens on October 13, branding them with membership in the Boy Scout Foundation.

The local round-up is a part of the effort to enroll 4500 members in the foundation in Navarro, Dallas, Ellis, Johnson, Hill, Henderson, Kaufman, Rains, Rockwall and Van Zandt counties. The local round-up is expected to net 300 members.

Mr. Cooksey is treasurer and chairman of the finance committee of the Navarro County Boy Scout Council which will cease to function as a separate county organization with the completion of the ten county project, and is heartily in favor of the new plan as a method of obtaining a more efficient and much more economical administration of Scouting locally.

According to Mr. Cooksey the new organization will serve the boys of Navarro County with a greater program of character building and citizenship training at approximately one third the cost of the old type of program.

Other Towns Active

Ennis, Hillsboro, Cleburne, Dallas, Terrell, Athens, Kaufman, Willis Point, Canton, Grand Saline and some fifteen other towns of the area are all actively working on the development of their local committees, who will be represented on the Circle Ten Council to be organized immediately following the membership round-up in these counties.

"Each town will have charge of its own local affairs, and will be represented on the governing board of the area council" according to A. H. Watts, special field executive of the Boy Scout movement who is assisting the local committees in the round-up. "It is a fair and businesslike arrangement," he said, "and all the funds raised in the ten counties will be expended in the development of scouting in those counties."

Dallas Co-Operating

The Dallas Council, which has heretofore had supervision of the work in the city of Dallas, is joining the partnership of towns in the new organization. The membership round-up in Dallas is now going strong and when the several hundred cowboys now working report at the final meeting Friday, it is expected that the city's goal of 3000 memberships will be reached.

Camp Wisdom, one of the finest boys' camps in America, which represents an investment of $20,000 by the Dallas Council, will become the property of the Circle Ten Council and will be used by all scouts of the area.

"I am confident that the people of Corsicana and Navarro County are pleased with the results of their three years of organized Scouting. Hundreds of local boys have been provided leadership in Scouting which is recognized as the best agency for the development of character and the training in citizenship among boys," said Mr. Jester in announcing plans for the membership round-up. "I know that we can interest 300 local men and women in enrolling a members of the Boy Scout Foundation and by the payment of membership fees provide for a continuance of the movement."

U. D. C. PRESENTS SERVICE CROSSES TO WORLD WAR VETERANS

An impressive service was held by the United Daughters of the Confederacy at the Methodist Educational building Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the presence of U. D. C. members, World War veterans and friends.

The occasion for this interesting program was the awarding of the Cross of Service, the World War insignia of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, as a testimonial to the patriotic devotion and loyalty of the lineal male descendants of Confederate soldiers and sailors.

Miss Hattie Kenner, new president of the U. D. C., was introduced in a charming manner by Mrs. Hal Peck, former president, who in a few words, spoke of the wonderful capabilities of Miss Kenner as a leader, following in the footsteps of her beloved mother, who was a loyal patriot to the Confederacy.

With a few words of introduction, Miss Kenner presented Rev. M. J. Parnell, chaplain of the United Confederate Veterans, who gave the invocation.

The audience was then favored with a solo by Mr. Roy Leeds, who rendered in a tender and touching voice the sweet melody of "When You and I Were Young, Maggie."

Next on the program was an interesting and instructive talk by Mrs. C. D. Speed on Admiral Raphael Semmes, commander of the Confederate Navy during the war between the States. Mrs. Speed brought out with distinction his naval activities in the Mexican war, giving emphasis to the fact that Admiral Semmes resigned his position as commander of the U. S. Navy to enter the service of the Confederacy.

Following this tribute to Admiral Semmes, Mr. Horace Douglas sang, "Just Before the Battle Moth-er was at its best, each note showing the sympathy and tenderness felt by the great artist, as he gave to the audience the beautiful melody of the old refrain.

Miss Hattie Kenner then introduced Hon. J. H. Woods, principal speaker of the afternoon. Mr. Woods spoke of the terrible effects of the war between the states on the South, picturing its devastation of homes and fields. The Southern soldier returned barefooted, his money of no value, his slaves gone, his property destroyed.

Mr. Woods then paid a touching tribute to Southern womanhood, the burden-bearers of the war, speaking of their heart-aches, their sacrifices and undaunted courage. He also gave extracts from Mr.

Talmadge's great address on the return of the victorious army of the North, following with Henry W. Goddy's reply to this address, picturing the return of another army—overwhelmed, but not defeated. Mr. Woods, speaking to the World War veterans, emphasized the fact that our World War boys of Southern heritage should at all times be proud of this heritage of which they can never be deprived.

Following the address, Mrs. Hal Peck presented to Little Barbara Jester her father's Cross of Service. Little Barbara standing on the table by the side of her grandmother, Mrs. Geo. T. Jester, made a beautiful picture her childish innocence being noticed and appreciated by all. Mrs. Jester holding little Barbara in her arms, accepted the medal in behalf of her son, who is present.

In a few brief words of appreciation, Mrs. Jester spoke of the meaning of this Cross to the mothers who felt more than all else the sacrifice of our young manhood. In earnest words she pleaded that our boys be as faithful to Christian ideals as they were to their patriotism and in turn receive a Cross of Glory.

Mrs. Jester, in the absence of Mr. Ben Blackmon, presented his Cross of Service to his little son, Benjamin. The mother and wife of Mr. Blackmon were present and in a few simple words, expressed their sincere appreciation to the Daughters of the Confederacy for the testimony of their son and husband's loyalty and patriotism.

Mrs. Benson was also presented with the certificate of her son, Harry L. Benson, who had previously received his Cross of Service.

The solos of the afternoon were made more enjoyable by the music rendered by the talented accompanist Mrs. Paul B. Harper.

Mrs. Harper is appreciated very much by the public at large for her skill as an artist of great ability, her sympathetic mood touching the hearts of all inures.

Miss Hattie Kenner, president of U. D. C., in a few words of gratitude, thanked the Methodist church for use of the Educational building, dwelling upon the magnificence of this building and the good fortune of the congregation in having as their assistant pastor, Rev. Patterson, who closed the program with an impressive prayer.

TOBACCO GROWN SUCCESSFULLY BY CORSICANA MAN

William Horn, a young Corsicana man, has demonstrated that tobacco can be successfully grown in this county if one is willing to take the trouble necessary in caring for the plants.

Mr. Horn brought to the Chamber of Commerce this week a large plug of tobacco which he had grown, stemmed, cured and pressed, using money and molasses as a seasoning binder. The plug is on display in the Chamber show window.

Constant attention to the plants is required to save them from the devastating pests which prey on tobacco, he explained. He grew his own plants from seed procured locally. He is growing the tobacco purely as an experiment, getting a number of government bulletins and making a thorough study of the plant. Last year he was equally successful in a small way.

CASE OF NAVARRO COUNTY NEGRO WAS REVERSED BY COURT

The Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin Wednesday handed down an opinion reversing the Robert Daniels' case.

The case of Robert Daniels, charged with murder was tried in the District Court of Navarro County, Texas, on November 17th and 18th, 1927. The trial resulted in a verdict of guilty and in the case the jury assessed a penalty of ten years in the penitentiary. This was a rather heavy penalty in view of the fact that the death of the deceased in so far as Robert Daniels was concerned was purely accidental. The said Daniels having no knowledge that the deceased person was in the vicinity of an altercation that he was having with another person and at which the defendant is said to have fired.

The case was appealed to the Court of Criminal Appeals and was presented and argued in that Court on Wednesday, March 9, 1927. In the trial of the case the State was represented by Ballard W. George, District Attorney, and the defendant was represented by J. S. Stinkins, and R. R. Owen, the latter of whom argued the case before the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Special to the Sun.
Mexico, Texas, Oct. 4.—Rainfall in Mexico during September exceeded that of the same month a year ago by more than two inches when precipitation of 2.74 was reported against .56 in September 1926. The temperature ranged from 102 on the second to 54 on the 28th.

Neither of the starting pitchers, Kremer of the Pirates or Waite Rhot of the Yankees, finished the game. Miljus went to the aid of Kremer and Wilcy Moore, ace relief man, went into the breach and saved the game.

The only Southwestern Conference game this week in the Baylor Arkansas game is Fayetteville. The most interesting game in Texas as will be the annual A. & M. College-Sewanee combat in Dallas. However, we think that the Aggies will wallop the Sewanee Tigers in decisive fashion.

JUDGE SCARBOROUGH CHARGES GRAND JURY TUESDAY MORNING

Charging the grand jury Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, Hawkins Scarborough, judge of the Thirteenth Judicial District Court, urged the investigators to go to the bottom of the facts in the numerous killings which have occurred in Navarro county during the last several weeks, principally among the negroes, and also stressed the investigation of the violations of the liquor laws.

Speaking of the killings, the court stated that the taking of life was the highest crime on the statute books of the country as when it was once taken, it could not be replaced. The judge stated that, in some instances, homicide was justifiable, but that there had been too many killings in the county. One reason advanced by the court was the taking too lightly of negro killings. He declared that it had apparently gotten to a point that if a negro was able to raise cotton and corn he was considered a good negro by the whites regardless of his conduct among his own race. The judge stated that the killing of negroes almost every Saturday night has to be stopped in Navarro county.

Dealing with the charge with reference to the liquor laws, Judge Scarborough declared that a good citizen should want the liquor laws enforced regardless of whether he was in favor of the law or not personally. As long as the prohibition laws are on the statute books, they should be rigidly enforced. Judge Scarborough continued. He also voiced the opinion that 99 per cent of the liquor consumed and handled in Navarro county came from neighboring counties. He stated that there was entirely too much liquor in the county and he especially urged the investigators to delve down into the situation and bring the violators to justice. The court admitted that the prohibition laws were the hardest on the statute books to enforce and that co-operation of the enforcement agencies were necessary to get the best results.

The attention of the investigators was also called to the operation of gambling houses.

All violations of laws were referred to and in conclusion, Judge Scarborough cautioned the grand jurors to remember their oaths taken to keep the proceedings and investigations of the jury secret.

The following are the members of the grand jury:
W. S. Ware, Richland; M. L. Fesmire, Corsicana; W. M. Conner, Corsicana; D. O. Pierson, Blooming Grove; Dave Ponder, Frost; J. A. Anderson, Kerens; John T. Fortson, Corsicana; J. M. Serugas, Navarro; C. S. Woods, Corsicana; E. F. Little, Oak Valley; J. A. Stewart, Eureka; J. S. Slater, Raleigh.

Judge Scarborough appointed John T. Fortson of Corsicana as foreman. The jury retired to its room and completed the organization, including the selection of a secretary and the payment of the necessary bailiffs to wait on the jury.

The following secretaries and bailiffs were elected by the grand jury:
John Anderson, secretary; Charles Wood, secretary; J. S. Petty, door bailiff; Riding bailiffs, Walter Hayes, Corsicana; R. M. Albright, Corsicana; R. A. Edens, Rice, Precinct No. 2; D. L. Orr, Kerens, Precinct No. 3; G. W. Long, Dawson, Precinct No. 4; L. W. Thrash, Blooming Grove, Precinct No. 5; J. B. Jule, Richland, Precinct No. 6; W. S. Bell, Eureka, Precinct No. 7; J. W. Phelps, Barry, Precinct No. 8.

AFRAID TO EAT

Bloating Spells, from Indigestion,
Put an Oklahoma Man in a Miserable Fix, But He Found Relief.

Swink, Okla.—In describing how he suffered from indigestion, Mr. S. T. Strain, of this place, says:

"I have been a user of Black-Draught for four or five years. I have been taking it for stomach trouble. I suffered after eating with bloating and a 'tight feeling'."

"I had spells when I could not eat much of anything. I had severe headaches. I would be nauseated and hurt a lot. I was in a pretty bad fix."

"I began taking Black-Draught. It seemed to help me wonderfully. I didn't find anything that benefited me as Black-Draught did. I certainly can recommend it."

"There were times when I just did without anything to eat until I was so weak to go. I was just miserable, and when I ate, my system seemed clogged."

"I had very severe headaches. So I didn't know just what to do. I knew I couldn't work if I didn't eat. I seemed like what I spit up was bitter as could be. I took Black-Draught pretty regularly and got where I could eat, and I don't have to take it so regularly now." NC-177
